

The AI-powered intranet that unifies the digital workplace

Turn overload and fragmentation into a better experience of work

Work today is defined by fragmentation: scattered tools, disconnected signals, and growing cognitive load. Simplplr brings people, trusted knowledge, apps, and agents into a unified experience that delivers relevant answers and guided actions in the flow of work.

Connect the systems behind work

Deep integrations create a unified experience layer across communication, knowledge, and business systems – eliminating silos without replacing the tools employees rely on.

Power decisions with a living EX Graph

A proprietary EX Knowledge Graph continuously understands people, content, and behavior to deliver contextual answers, recommendations, and next-best actions across the employee journey.

Find and complete work in one motion

Enterprise search, embedded AI assistance, and in-context automations help employees discover what they need and take action instantly, without switching systems.

Scale with governance built in

Enterprise-grade controls ensure trusted information, secure access, and compliant workflows across global, frontline, and hybrid workforces.
